HELPING.
CANDIDATES.
WIN.

WHO WE ARE:

ELECTION RUNNERS are a seasoned team of analytical canvassers with a proven track record of success utilizing data platforms such as I360, Advantage and Kickstart to create a formidable winning campaign. Our core group has canvassed thousands of neighborhoods across the United States, supporting U.S. Presidents and State Governors by delivering the critical data needed to target voters and win elections.

We're not just another canvassing service - we're professionals who understand the power of direct voter engagement. When our team knocks on doors, we make lasting first impressions by asking residents what they expect from their leaders and what issues matter most to them. This is the kind of insight that drives winning strategies and it's exactly what Election Runners delivers.

Our commitment to excellence is unmatched. We provide detailed, real-time data with a level of professionalism that sets us apart from the competition. Our founders have worked with hundreds of campaigns and reached thousands of households. At Election Runners, we don't offer excuses — we deliver results.

WHAT WE DO:

Our scalable data base program is tailored to identify a winnable group of voters that are systematically chosen to capture data designed for your campaign. We have built an innovative in person face-to-face approach to achieve maximum measurable results by asking more questions and getting more data than others out here. We are founded by entrepreneurs who are not afraid to step outside the box to take on other challenges and decided to go out and reach American voters. We will travel to any state with a core group with the experience to get out and do the job that's required.

Election Runners Analytical Canvassers are a core group of highly trained foot soldiers that have knocked on thousands of doors throughout America. We helped US PRESIDENTS AND STATE GOVERNORS get the data that they needed to focus on and win elections. We are well prepared to handle the task that's given to us by your party affiliate. What sets out Election Runners apart from our competitors is that we are extremely selective in our hiring practices only working with professionals willing to get out there in any climate and bring you real time firsthand data.

Engagement is the key for an effective campaign when we are seen at the doors, ask fellow residents what you are expecting to do for them, and asking what their expectations are from you. This is what Election Runners can do for you!
